

Contents

Sarah Schäfer-Althaus and Sara Strauß
Transient Bodies, Bodies in Transition: An Introduction	7
Sarah Schäfer-Althaus
Dissecting Birth: Obstetrics, Bodily Transience and the Anatomist's Gaze in Eighteenth-Century Medical Atlases	23
Julia Schneider
Birth without a Woman: Mary Shelley's Frankenstein in the Context of Eighteenth-Century Ideas on Birth, Motherhood and Midwifery	47
Sandra Dinter
Child Bodies in the British Novel of the 1980s	69
Lena Schneider
"It Was Her Own Body She Remembered": Female Bodily Experience in Sunset Song	89
Alexander Farber
Love beyond Life's Boundaries: Transient Bodies in Matthew Lewis's The Monk	109
Lisa Ahrens
Transient Bodies at the Threshold of Conversion: Physical Reflections of New Religious Identities	129
Alessandra Boller
"It's Easier to Talk Like This in the Dark": The Body with AIDS in Colm Tóibín's The Blackwater Lightship	149

Christoph Singer
The Body Suspended in Time: Transience and Memory in the Work of Elizabeth Bishop and Leah Kaminsky	169
Elise Brault-Dreux
Who Cares for the Old? Old Age in Philip Larkin's Poems	187
Sara Strauß
Ageing (Female) Bodies and Mortality in Eighteenth- Century Poetry	205
Contributors' Addresses	227