Contents

SABINE COELSCH-FOISNER
EUROFAN – New Directions of the European Fantastic: Introduction VII

ROGER LUCKHURST
The Weird Rewired: Genres, Borders and the New Europe 1

EDWARD JAMES
The New Space Opera, 1991-2011: The European Contribution 13

MARK BOULD
Other Worlds Are Possible:
Some Trends in European Fantastic Film after the Cold War 29

JOE GRIXTI
The Intrigue of the Liminal: Fantastic Explorations of the Shadow Self 41

KATHRYN ROUNTREE
The Role of the Fantastic in Contemporary European Paganisms 53

SONJA KLIMEK
Illusion, Immersion and Identification:
Storytelling Role-Playing Games as Interactive Media Practice 67

FRANS MÄYRÄ
The Global and Local in Fantastic New Media: The Case of Finland 81

CHRISTIAN KNÖPPLER
Unexploded Bombs and Superpowers: Global Threats and Solutions in Warren Ellis's The Authority and Global Frequency 99

STEFANIE KREUZER
Constellations of a Postmodern Fantastic 111

MARLEEN S. BARR
The Sound of Music Portrays an Alternative Universe Salzburg and Reflects
Social Dialogue between an Unreal Austria and the United States 119

BEATRIX HESSE
A New Variation on the Alien Invasion Theme:
Neill Blomkamp's District 9 129

STEFAN RABITSCH
Rule, Britannia! Britannia, Rule(s) the Space in Star Trek!
Maritime Histories, Transatlantic Anglophone Hegemonies
and Science Fiction TV 139

INKEN FROST
Doctor Who in the Twenty-First Century:
The Doctor after the (Cold) War 153

FRAUKE BODE
Trauma and the Fantastic: Marcelo Figueras' La batalla del calientamento and Guillermo del Toro's El laberinto del fauno 165

A. J. DRENDA
Geralt of Rivia:
The Old and New Hero in Andrzej Sapkowski's The Witcher Cycle 179

STEFANIE GIEBERT
A Place for the Silver Horde or No Country for Old Men?
Age and Aging in Fantasy and Science Fiction 187

BRIAN STABLEFORD
The Misdiagnosis of Madness in Science and Science Fiction 197

LIST OF AUTHORS 211